

"I aspire to become a companion to my students as they embark on the lifelong journey of learning. I hope to empower my students through their education, to help them appreciate the natural and social world around them, and to inspire them to be catalyst for great changes within their own community."

NGUYEN THI KY BINH

VIP Teacher

Teaching since 2011

Certificates

BA - Mathematics - Hamilton College (NY)

Success Cases

Three out of the four students whom Binh peer-tutored for the SAT are now graduates of Franklin & Marshall College, Cornell College, and Niagara University, and two of them are now PhD candidates at Penn State University and University of Wisconsin - Madison.