

"I believe that students acquire language and communication skills in many ways and the most effective method of teaching combines various strategies to meet students' specific strengths and needs. I teach rules and conventions while building confidence, encouraging students to experiment with language and introducing them to ideas that inspire me."

DANIEL BYER

English Teacher

Teaching at Everest since 2016,

Copywriting contractor for Audible/Amazon, English teacher in Korea; camp counselor/instructor at a maker-camp based in New York.

Certificates

Bachelor of Science in Major Film and Television, Boston University College of Communication;

Concentration English Literature in University;

TEFL (Teaching English as a Foreign Language).

Success cases

Dan's students have marked improvement in speaking and writing, seen growth on tests, reading comprehension level and speaking confidence.

Qualified to teach

English all levels;
Test Prep.