

"I want my students to enjoy Math and let them experience how Math is used everywhere in our daily lives. I believe that mastering Math contributes to the student's problem solving skills. This is the reason why I don't always follow Math textbooks chapter by chapter, but work with online math games and use many different toys, tools and ways to find answers to Math problems. I focus on teaching the reasoning behind Math formulas and only continue when the student masters the topic. My motto is solving Math problems should become a habit as simple as 'brushing your teeth'."
